

EVENING AT THE BROADMOOR

From the day the Broadmoor first opened in 1918, it set out to create a dining experience that celebrates innovation along with the culinary traditions of the American West. Embracing the adventurous spirit of Colorado, the diverse restaurants feature a blend of contemporary styling and classic elegance. Enjoy stunning mountain views and a range of fresh, bold flavors that change with the seasons. You will enjoy a late afternoon meal in the grand ballroom and have time to take in the magical holiday décor. Trip includes transportation, meal and motor-coach driver gratuity.

HOLIDAY LIGHTS

Drive by the impressive annual display at the Denver City and County Building. The massive outdoor holiday lights display consists of more than 20,000 lights and five miles of electrical wire. You'll also get to see the festive lights at Union Station, Larimer Square and Windsor Gardens. On this short trip, we will drive by locations but not get off the bus.

Volunteer Spotlight

JACKIE WADDLE

I'm an Arizona girl in a Colorado world and loving it! I came to Colorado from Mesa, Arizona, almost a year ago. I have three children; two are here, one is in Arizona.

I have been volunteering since I retired in 2007. I volunteered at Banner Hospital three days a week and so enjoyed it that as soon as I moved to Colorado, I looked for another volunteer opportunity and found the Clements Community Center. I enjoy the people, the friendliness and being able to give of my time. Volunteering is something that gives me such good feelings that I walk away with a smile every day.

MARILYN HARRIS

I enjoy assisting Jackie Waddle and Jean Engstrom (supervisor of the Lakewood VOA lunchroom) on Thursdays as we greet and check in those attending the VOA luncheons. I feel honored to be able to help.

My husband, Wayne, who plays the piano on Thursdays, is also owner of Prime Time Tours. I enjoy traveling and baking goodies for his trips. We both have attended Lakewood Church of the Nazarene for the past 35 years. We have one daughter, Marty Reames, who along with her husband, Steve, is passionate about caving.

In recent years I have been involved with two groups of ladies from Green Mountain and Heather Gardens who give generously of their time and talent to knit and crochet for others. We make chemo caps (for women who have lost their hair), homeless hats, lap robes/blankets and baby items. This past year we gave to the Clements Center, the Redistribution Center in Wheat Ridge (for wounded soldiers), Children's Hospital, Mommy Rocks, Africa Hope, Salvation Army and Denver Rescue Mission. I am proud to be part of this activity. God has blessed us and we are grateful for the yarn contributed to help sustain our efforts. I have learned that joy and compassion come from doing things for others.
